The institutes have emphasized on the ‘no mask, no class’ rule as one of the main criteria for in-person classes. Prof Agradi Paul mentioned that the institutions should train their staff and students to assist and undertake the work related to safety and health to prevent an outbreak of the pandemic in their campuses. Non-resident students should be allowed in campuses only after thermal scanning, sanitization of their hands, wearing of face masks and gloves.

Many colleges and universities have introduced remote learning capabilities with all-virtual classes, and some institutions of higher education plan to offer distance learning through the 2021 semester solely. However, local governments or individual institutions determine exact restrictions and guidelines, meaning that in-person classes can still occur in some states. Protocol should be maintained for the Institution strictly. Prof Debraj Howlader convener Covid committee proposed for better hygiene environment for students. Prof Madhu Sriwastav , Assistant Prof and HOD Dept of English external member of the department focussed on the prevention and furthermore as the West Bengal higher education department has issued a list of guidelines for the safe reopening of colleges and universities across the state from November 16 so she explained the necessity of the colleges.
