Sumita Chatterjee Assistant Professor & Convener Seminar Research Forum in her welcome address discussed the importance of flipped classroom, she further discussed that teaching is an art, Integration of technology in pedagogical approach is a common phenomenon. 21st century educational world promotes student's centred teaching learning approaches. Flipped classroom is a pedagogical approach. Educationists Jonathan Bergmann and Aaron Sams introduced the concept of flipped classrooms in the famous book "Reach Every Student in Every Class Every Day (2012). Flipped classroom creates an interactive learning environment. Flipped classroom breaks the traditional pedagogical pattern to provide proper learning exposure in the classroom using lecture methods and sharing other learning resources in the classroom at the end of the lesson. Earlier teachers used to be a master of the class sharing instructions in a group of students. Flipped classroom shifts the teaching learning process from the group to the individual.
