Seven Days of NSS Special Camp: A Report on the Bamanpukur Humayun Kabir Mahavidyalaya NSS Unit Activities:

Bamanpukur: A Seven Days of NSS Special Camp was organised on and from 23rd February to 1st March, 2019 by the NSS Unit of Bamanpukur Humayun Kabir Mahavidyalaya under the supervision of the NSS programme officer Ashis Biswas. Volunteers were comprised of the students, teachers and non-teaching staffs of the college who worked hard towards the successful end of the Special Camp. The Student-volunteers were the main work force of the Special Camp and they were largely distributed in three groups under three unanimously selected group leaders. The groups were named after the first names of the group leaders; they were: 'Team Baijid' under volunteer Baijid Golder, 'Team Sulata' under volunteer Sulata Bar, and 'Team Mohitosh' under volunteer Mohitosh Sen. An In-charge was selected for each day among teacher-volunteers to conduct the day's activities. There was also specific themes allotted for each day of the Special Camp; these themes are as follow:

Day-1 (23rd February, 2019): Inauguration

Day-2 (24th February, 2019): Swachh Bharat

Day-3 (25th February, 2019): Digital India

Day-4 (26th February, 2019): Health and Hygiene

Day-5 (27th February, 2019): Women Empowerment

Day-6 (28th February, 2019): Awareness Programme on EVM and VVPAT

Day-7 (1st March, 2019): Valedictory

Here mention to be made of the fact that, at first, "Consumer Affairs" was selected to be the theme of the 6th day of the Special Camp, but later it was changed to "Awareness Programme on EVM and VVPAT" keeping in mind the upcoming 17th Lok Sabha Election of India scheduled to be held on and from 11th April, 2019 to 19th May, 2019. Addendum was made accordingly for this change.

Organisation: One month before the NSS Special Camp a registration form was circulated among students for their participation. They were accordingly registered for the Camp. There was also scope for spot registration as well. Later it was decided that for each day of the camp there will be an in-charge selected from the teachers. According to the area of interests of the teachers they were given charge of each day of the camp. One week before the camp all plans regarding the proceedings and the mapping of the site were chalked out. After settling down everything, a formal notice was given on 22nd February, 2019 for the commencement of the Seven Day NSS Special Camp and tentative programme details were sent to the Programme Co-ordinator of West Bengal State University which the college is affiliated to. The Programme Officer along with one faculty member as Day In-charge and Biswajit Roy as a representative from the Non-Teaching-Staff remained present every day of the Special Camp. Total 68 volunteers participated in the camp; among them 43 were the female volunteers and 25 were the male volunteers. The details of the volunteers and the number of the days of their presence are given below:

Inauguration Session: On the inauguration day of the Special camp volunteers gathered in the seminar room of the college at about 10.30 am. The in-charge of the day Debraj Howlader gave proper orientation on the codes of conduct of the camp to the volunteers. Later all the proceedings began with the entry of the Honourable Principal, Dr. Subhash Biswas and the NSS Programme Officer, Ashis Biswas into the seminar hall. They were welcomed by the volunteers with three times of NSS Clap. The day in-charge Debraj Howlader requested them to come on the dais and take their seats. They were then facilitated with bouquet of flowers by the volunteers. After that the honourable principal inaugurated the session by lighting the Pradeep which was followed by an inaugural song sung by a group of selected volunteers. Thereafter the honourable principal gave a speech on the occasion and what was the purpose of the special camp. After that a brief introductory speech was made by the Programme Officer Ashis Biswas; he also directed the volunteers towards the day's proceedings.

The proceeding of the Second Day of the NSS Camp began with volunteers gathering at the seminar hall. The day's in-charge was the Programme Officer Ashis Biswas who made a brief introduction to the day's theme, i.e. Swachh Bharat and directed the volunteers to the Day's work.

Shramdan: The Volunteers were taken to the worksite of the day from the seminar hall. The work site comprised of the rooms of the college, the outside front of the college building and the area of the water harvesting. All volunteers again were divided into three groups. It took great effort from a few among the volunteers to clear the water harvesting area which was blocked with weeds. However the task of the day was completed successfully and the volunteers cleaned themselves for lunch session.

Shramdan: The theme of the third day of the NSS special camp was ‘Digital India’. The day in-charge was Sumita Chatterjee. She gave a brief introduction to the day’s theme, followed by the announcement of the day’s work schedule by the programme officer Ashis Biswas. The volunteers then were led to the site for the Shramdam at about 11.30 am. The selected site was the right half of the garden area just in front of the college building. Three groups were formed and accordingly the worksite was distributed among them. The portion selected for the shramdan of the day was cleaned by the volunteers. The volunteers after that cleansed themselves for lunch. After the lunch session all volunteers and the day in-charge Sumita Chatterjee, Programme Officer Ashis Biswas, and other teachers and non-teaching staff gathered again in the seminar room at about 02.30 pm.

The day four of NSS Special Camp began with the volunteers gathering in the seminar room at 11 am. The day in-charge was Dr. Debasree Sadhu. The day's theme was 'Health and Hygiene'. The day in-charge introduced the theme of the day to the volunteers followed by announcement of the day's work plan by the programme officer Ashis Biswas. Then volunteers were led to the worksite for their Shramdan.

Shramdan: The worksite of the day's shramdan was the left half of the garden in front of college building. Three groups were formed and the worksite was distributed among these three groups under the respective group leaders. The volunteers worked hard to complete the cleaning of the garden. The work was completed in schedule time (1.30 pm). The volunteers then went to have their lunch and from there they gathered in the seminar room to participate in the seminar and workshop related to health and hygiene. Both the Seminar and Workshop sessions were collaborated with the Health and Hygiene Cell of the College.

Seminar: The Seminar began at about 02.00 pm. Prof. Santanu Pramanik again was invited as the resource of person which he cordially accepted. He was well known to the volunteers due to his successful demonstration on issues related to health and hygiene in the previous day's workshop. The volunteers listen to him very attentively. He gave the necessary information to the theme which was already introduced to the volunteers by the day's in-charge, Dr. Debasree Sadhu at the beginning of the day. He talked of the importance of women empowerment in India for the uplift of the society. He also talked on how the self-defence is a very important tool for women empowerment and building up of the self-esteem for women. The male volunteers also participated in the workshop and fully accepted the view that today's women are much more capable and the development of the society depended on the empowerment of women which would enable them to include themselves into the mainstream of social-political, cultural, economic activities of society.

The day began with the volunteers coming to the seminar room at about 11 am. The theme of the 6th day of the special camp was ‘Awareness on EVM and VVPAT’. The day theme was changed from ‘Consumers’ Affairs’ to ‘Awareness on EVM and VVPAT’ in the middle of the NSS special camp keeping in mind the upcoming 17th Lok Sabha Election (from 11th April to 19th May, 2019) and the introduction of the new VVPAT machine by the Election Commission of India to make the election more fare. The day in-charge was Rejaul Molla, he introduced the theme of the day to the volunteers followed by the Programme Officer announcing the work schedule of the day. The volunteers was then taken to their Shramdan site at about 11.30 am; one group was allotted the garden to the right side of the Main Gate of the college opposite to the Herbal Garden. Other two groups were given the responsibility of cleaning the cubicle and transferring the garbage accumulated in front of the water harvesting area to the waste management site at the back side of the college building.

Shramdan: The volunteers cleared the garden area allotted for the day and completed their task by 1.30 pm. They cleaned themselves and went for their lunch. After lunch they all gather in the seminar hall to attend the workshop at about 02.00 pm.

Workshop: The workshop began at 02.00 pm. The day in-charge made a brief introduction to the Process of General Election and the use of electronic voting machine. The honourable B.D.O. of the Minakhan Block especially came as the guest of honour and resource person to teach the volunteers the function and use of the EVM and VVPAT machine. He and one of the officials gave a formal introduction to the concept of the 17th Lok Sabha Election, 2019 and the important role of the voters to make the election a successful event. The honourable B.D.O. then went on to theoretically explain the technicalities of the electronic voting machine and the function of the newly introduced Voter Verifiable Paper Audit Trail or VVPAT in the election. The process and functions of EVM and VVPAT were taught by hand by the B.D.O. and his Officials. The volunteers who were mostly composite of new voters took delight in leaning the process. And the workshop was a great success. After the completion of the workshop the day in-charge thanked the honourable B.D.O. and his officials for conducting the workshop with their own tools and technicians in the NSS special camp. The workshop concluded at 3.30 pm.

Speeches of the Principal and the Guest of Honour: After the song the honourable Principal of the college was invited to deliver his speech on the occasion. He talked about his own experience of conducting such camps and directed volunteers into engaging in such activities side by side their studies. After the speech of the Principal, the Guest of Honour and the WBSU NSS Coordinator, Dr. Pranam Dhar was invited to make his speech and observation of the special camp. He praised the whole setting and applauded the volunteers' endeavour to put up a successful camp. From the NSS song to the NSS clap and the zeal of the volunteers were appreciated by the Dr. Dhar. He was delighted that everything about the camp was upgraded from the previous one which all agreed to. Dr. Dhar also sang a song of his own choice which cheered the audience.

Abdulla Mistri being awarded by Dr. Pranam Dhar

Mohitosh Sen being awarded by Dr. Pranam Dhar

Mampi Mahato being awarded by Dr. Pranam Dhar

Samiran Naskar being awarded by Dr. Pranam Dhar

Vote of Thanks: The prize distribution ceremony was followed by the vote of thanks by the NSS officer, Ashis Biswas who thanked all the supporting staffs of the NSS Special Camp for their guidance and effort, the Day in-charges who monitored each day's activities, the senior teachers, the Principal, for his support and guidance, the Office of the B.D.O for the conducting the workshop on EVM and VVPAT on the 6th Day of the Camp, the Resource Persons for gleefully accepting the invitation of the college and conducting sessions of learning skills with entertainment, the representative of the student-body for their passive support, and above all the volunteers without whose enthusiastic participation the workshop would not have been successful.

National Anthem: The vote of thanks was followed by the National Anthem. Everyone stood up and sang the National anthem. It was followed by three times of NSS clap to mark the end of the cheerful and successful Seven Days of NSS Special Camp put up by the NSS Volunteers.

Conclusion: Thus the endeavour of seven days of NSS special camp was concluded among mirth, delight and a bit of sadness. Sadness not because of tiredness but for the friendship and the togetherness the students of Bamanpukur Humayun Kabir Mahavidyalaya built up by turning into NSS volunteers in those seven days left a mark on their mind and the Special Camp that resulted it came to a close. But the hope for the new still remained.
