Execution of the Programme: The convenor of the Extension and Extracurricular Cell, Ashis Biswas and the convenor of the Health and Hygiene Cell, Dr. Debasree Sadhu with a team of student-volunteers of the college visited Bamanpukur Aboitanik Prathamik Vidyalaya to organise the programme on 27th August 2019 at about 12.30 pm. At first a brief meeting with the teachers of the primary school was held to discuss with them about the planning of the programme. The teachers then took both the convenors and the team of volunteers to the classrooms. There in the classroom a brief presentation was made on the importance of washing hands before taking food to the little children by the convenors and a few of the student-volunteers. The school children very enthusiastically received the message and understood what was said to them.

Since it was already lunch time and the mid-day meal would be served shortly to the students the session was quickly done with. It is followed by the handwashing session. The team of student-volunteers carried with them handwashing gel. They also had with them pen and sweets as little presents to be given to the children after they finished the hand washing. The school children stood in cue and the volunteers pour in their hand the washing gel one by one. After that their hand was washed with tap-water by the volunteers. The little school children were presented with the little gifts after this and they loved it very much. In the handwashing session the teachers of the primary school and the convenors also participated in the handwashing activity. Total 86 children's hands were washed by the volunteers. After this the students took their mid-day meal which is followed by the group photo session.

The school children enjoyed the entire programme very much. The teachers of the primary school were very supportive to carry out the entire workshop. Before exiting the school premises a vote of thanks was given to the school authority, teachers and the little school children. The teachers praised the effort of the entire team and thanked the convenors for making a visit to school premises to organised such a programme. The children were very happy to be a part of such activity and enjoyed it fully. The programme, therefore, successfully ended. Then the team returned to the college making a happy memory.
